

Sara Bridgeforth

From: Kate Merlin <katelynnmerlin@gmail.com>
Sent: Wednesday, October 26, 2016 12:34 PM
To: kirstin@jahnlaw.com
Cc: Howard Bernstein; Sara Bridgeforth
Subject: Re: Disparagement

Kirsten,

We didn't have a chance to finish our conversation because you hung up on me. Will you please call me back today so that we can confer about our Motion to Enforce the Settlement Agreement?

Kate
(720) 965 - 0854

On October 26, 2016 at 11:25:43 AM, Kirstin Jahn (kirstin@jahnlaw.com) wrote:

Kate,

I have not received any further instances of disparagement. In your cell phone call today, you again argued generalities about disparagement, failed to provide any further clarification or specifics about other items you deem disparaging and advised me your only choice was to take this to the Judge.

I stated that without knowing the specifics, we could not address any further issues and noted that a judge would also have a hard time ruling on this issue without specifics. You responded by stating my client should know what is disparaging and you were not going to search the web and find every disparaging remark made -- which you were certain there were out there -- and then began a soliloquy on on what and how I should be advising my client. At this time, I advised you that your comments were rude and to put any further issues in writing.

My request is simple. If you have further instances of disparagement, please identify them specifically in writing so that I may review them and respond accordingly.

If you have changes to the proposed settlement agreement, please provide them in writing as well.

Sincerely,

Kirstin

On 10/26/2016 9:47 AM, Kate Merlin wrote:

Kirsten,

11 am works fine for me.

Kate

On October 25, 2016 at 3:43:29 PM, Kirstin Jahn (kirstin@jahnlaw.com) wrote:

Yes. I would like to go over this with my client -- so would 11 work?

On 10/25/2016 3:29 PM, Kate Merlin wrote:

Kirsten, I no longer have time to talk today.

Can we talk in the morning?

Kate Merlin

On October 25, 2016 at 3:18:57 PM, Kirstin Jahn (kirstin@jahnlaw.com) wrote:

Yes. I am here.

You may have shown up on my caller ID as Anonymous- due to the overriding calls regarding the election, I do not answer those calls.

What number can I call you on?

On 10/25/2016 3:05 PM, Kate Merlin wrote:

Dear Kirsten,

Just reminding you that we had a 3:00 pm phone call set for this afternoon. Thanks.

Kate Merlin

On October 25, 2016 at 2:04:46 PM, Kate Merlin (katelynnmerlin@gmail.com) wrote:

Dear
Kirsten,

I receive d your memori alizatio
n email, and we see that your client has remove d certain posts regardi